Simon de Cyrène in Toulouse

A new option to give a new meaning to life with a birth handicap or when an accident occurs
A new answer to a society challenge: what can someone become after a serious life accident?

Every year in France, 155,000 persons suffer from brain damage after a car accident, stroke or other life dramas.

40,000 persons will then live with a permanent handicap.

Simon de Cyrène is based on 2 evidences:

« Being lonely is what I suffer most of »

« I want to live at home and with a community! »

« What meaning can I give to my life? »
A cohabitation between able bodied people and disabled ones

Be at home and live together

Be at home, without being alone

Shared houses, on a human scale, in the heart of the cities, where disabled and able bodied people live together and build:

- Autonomy and Independence
- Accessibility and Openness
- Trust and Otherness
- Mutual aid and Exchange
- Comfort and Well-being
