

CTIA is an international, nonprofit membership organization representing all sectors of wireless communications, including:

- Wireless Carriers, Network Operators
- Device Manufacturers
- Network Infrastructure Manufacturers
- Platform Providers
- Application Providers
- Content Providers

For more information, please visit: <http://www.ctia.org/>

Who we are?

Brand Pillars

What CTIA Does

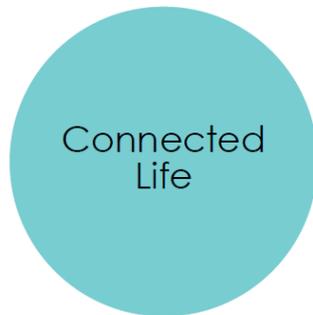

We are the one association that represents the interests of carriers and equipment manufacturers of all sizes, as well as companies across all industries that depend on wireless technology to drive innovation and growth. Our effectiveness emanates from our membership.

How CTIA Does It

We are relentless advocates for our members. For CTIA, advocacy goes beyond providing a strong and resolute voice to regulators and legislators. Advocating for the industry is about strengthening our members by bringing together industry leaders and by providing data-supported insights.

Why CTIA Does It

A stronger wireless industry creates value across the economy, building more modern and prosperous businesses and creating greater choice and deeper connections for consumers.

ctia Everything™
Wireless

