A taxi from the city centre to the Siemens premises will cost between DM 30 and DM 40.

HOW TO GET THERE FROM THE AIRPORT?

- by taxi: this will cost around DM 100.- and will take 30-45 minutes, varying widely with traffic conditions.
- by public transportation: Munich airport is connected to the city by train ("S-Bahn") lines S1 and S8. The pictogram to follow at the airport is an "S" in a green circle.

S8 trains leave every 20 minutes and take you to "Ostbahnhof" in 30 min. At Ostbahnhof, change to underground line U5 bound for Neuperlach-Sued (same ticket). At Neuperlach-Sued station, take the left front exit to reach the Siemens premises.

Tickets cost about DM 13.- and may be purchased at a ticket counter at the airport. It is best to buy a stripe ticket ("Streifenkarte"). You need 8 stripes for the trip from the airport to anywhere in the city and may use the remaining two stripes for a trip within the city.

The trip will take around 45 minutes.

Alternatively, you may take an S1 train from the airport directly to Neuperlach-Sued in 63 minutes.

- by car: see attached maps 1 and 2 "mchp1.gif" and "mchp3.gif".
