Resume of Magnus Aldén

Magnus earned his M.Sc. (Engineering Physics, 1990) and his Ph.D. (Physics, 1994) from Uppsala University, Sweden, both degrees with speciality on computations. After a spell at Cap Gemini and a post doc at Max-Planck Institute in Stuttgart (1994-1996 combined), Magnus joined TeliaSonera Research in 1996 and has since then devoted his profession to mobile telephony research and development at TeliaSonera. He holds a Certificate for Information System Security Professional (CISSP) from (ISC)². Magnus has been involved in standardisation more or less continuously since 1999, in 3GPP and in OMA. For the latter organisation, he acted as Chair of OMA SEC, 2007-2009. Magnus joined 3GPP SA3 by the start of year 2010, following the retirement of colleague Per Christoffersson. Outside standardisation, his duties include security work in the internal procurement projects related to mobile network security.

As a curiosity, Magnus has insight into also the security machinery of aviation, via his commercial pilot license and experiences that include airlines operation.
